All These Interruptions. The van is overheating. The tow truck is on its way. Late again... A thesis to write. A missing member. The phone is ringing... Five songwriters. Five friends. Two years in the making. Ten songs. All These Interruptions is the debut album from Vancouver's Kids These Days.

Kids These Days are on hiatus but there's talk of another record. Kids These Days are currently focusing their attentions on their other projects: The Mohawk Lodge, Octoberman, Bells Clanging and Tailor Island.

Here's some of what the kids did:

The Kids have charted in the Top 50 for Canadian campus radio airplay, performed on National TV (CBC's Zed), and rattled stages in Montreal, Toronto (NXNE, Wavelength), Guelph, New York City (CBGB's and The Knitting Factory), Hollywood (The Knitting Factory), San Francisco, Eugene, Portland, Seattle, and their hometown of Vancouver. Plus, they've been featured in EXCLAIM! and 3WK and "rest tonight" will be on the teen drama show Life As We Know It Jan.27th For dinner parties or photo shoots go to <http://kidsthesedays.ca>, email info@kidsthesedays.ca or call 604-719-8481.

PRESS QUOTES:

- + The Lotus Landers bring an unerring exuberance to the proceedings. EXCLAIM!
- + "Kids These Days are refreshingly original, boasting inventive melodies and a unique approach to songwriting. What's best about these local kids is that they're clearly not trying to be anything but good songwriters" -WESTENDER
- + Kids These Days, which, chock-a-block with talented tunesmiths, operates more like a singer-songwriters' collective than a typical rock band. The five-piece outfit's debut CD, All These Interruptions, is a remarkable collection of carefully crafted indie-pop numbers, and it marks Kids These Days as an act to watch. GEORGIA STRAIGHT - best of Vancouver issue
- + Vancouver 'collective' responsible for one of the best Canadian releases of this year |
